CONFIDENTIAL LETTERS ARE READ TO JURY IN ROOSEVELT TRIAL

Colonel Identifies Correspondence and Answers Questions About It and About Campaign Contributions and Big Business.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 27.—More hitherto unknown chapters of the political history of the state of New York were revealed in the supreme court here today when confidential correspondence that passed between Theodore Roosevelt on one hand and William Barnes and former United States Senator Thomas C. Platt—"the boss"—on the other, was read to the jury. It was the former president's sixth day upon the witness stand in the $50,000 suit for alleged libel brought against him by Mr. Barnes. Colonel Roosevelt identified the letters and answered questions about them and some more about campaign contributions and big business. He wound up the day by claiming as his own the speeches and interviews published in New York newspapers in which he said some things about the men he called the "bosses." The names of Barnes, Murphy, Guggenheim, Cox, Penrose and others were scattered through these articles.

CONSULTED ON FRIENDLY TERMS.

The letters that passed between Colonel Roosevelt and Senator Platt showed that the two continued to consult on friendly terms while the former was governor, vice-president and then president. In a telegram sent to Colonel Roosevelt while he was still governor, the senator urged the signing of a bill for exempting from the franchise tax, grade crossings of steam railroads, and said that "our friends of New York Central" and Senator DePew were "anxious."

Colonel Roosevelt replied that he had received the telegram "too late" and that anyway, he considered the matter was one upon which he should take the "advice of the tax commission unless it could be shown that they were wrong."

In another telegram when Senator Platt insisted that Colonel Roosevelt, then governor, attend the meeting of a commission, the colonel after protesting agreed to do so and added "but you are not an easy boss."

The colonel, when vice-president, asked that his friends be "taken care of" by the senator. In other letters appointments were discussed, while in one, written by the senator after Colonel Roosevelt was in the white house, the cabinet to be selected by the mayor-elect of New York, Seth Low, was written off.

OPPOSING ATTORNEYS CLASH.

The name of William Barnes, the colonel admitted, did not appear once in all this correspondence. The letters between Mr. Barnes and the colonel covered a period between 1904 and 1910. Their tenor was entirely friendly and at times they almost bordered upon the formal.

The appointment of men to office and a variety of political affairs were discussed and the "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" elements Colonel Roosevelt said Mr. Barnes had in him were the subject of questions which resulted. Hostilities broke out between the opposing lawyers several times. On each occasion Justice William Andrews, presiding, smoothed them down. The Roosevelt counsel fought against the admission of the newspaper articles. Then when the colonel was asked about campaign contributions from men affiliated with the American Powder company, the New Haven railroad, Harvester company, the Steel corporation and the Tennessee Coal and Iron company and whether he as president of the United States had ordered the attorney general to investigate or bring action against the concerns the attorneys clashed again.

The Tennessee Coal & Iron company absorption by the steel was under discussion when John Bowens, chief counsel for Colonel Roosevelt, said: "Now please stop with that. We will be all summer trying this case."

"We may," replied Mr. Ivins, chief counsel for Mr. Barnes, "we did not start this game."

"Yes you did," declared Mr. Bowens, heatedly.

"Yes, you did," returned Mr. Ivins. "Colonel Roosevelt made the first publication."

Then the court intervened.

SENSES MORE FATIGUED.

Colonel Roosevelt spent considerably more time listening to the lawyers reading letters and newspaper articles than he did in answering questions. He seemed to be more fatigued at the end of the day of inactivity than he was in the days when one question after another was being asked him.

The belief prevailed here tonight that the cross examination of the former president would end sometime tomorrow. Mr. Barnes was in court again this afternoon, having returned from Albany where he went to attend the state constitutional convention.

UNSATISFACTORY TO TANNERS

Proposed Advances Are Also Opposed as Being No Less Discriminatory.

Chicago, April 27.—Present freight rates on hides are unsatisfactory to tanning interests according to testimony today in the western rate hearing and the proposed advances in the transportation charges were also opposed as being no less discriminatory.

The subject was brought before W. M. Daniels, interstate commerce commissioner in the hearing of protests against advances in freight rates on packing house products which are included in the commodities on which forty one western railroad systems are seeking to increase their freight charges.

A. B. Caswell, manager of the Milwaukee Tanners' Freight Bureau testified that freight rates on green salted hides had been advanced 3 1/2 cents a hundred pounds in 1910 and that the proposed advance of a like amount now would simply increase the discrimination under which, he said, the tanners' industry suffered. He declared that if the proposed increase were allowed this should also be an increase in the minimum carload weight for hides.

"Cars can be loaded heavily with hides," the witness declared, "and there is slight danger of damage. They should be considered separately from other packing house products. They are really raw material not shipped to the ultimate consumer but handled by other manufacturers."

WEATHER BUREAU ANNOUNCES COOLER TEMPERATURES TODAY

Report States Conditions Will be Unsettled, Probably With Local Showers.

Washington, April 27.—The heat wave of the last few days which broke April 19th temperature records in many cities from the Mississippi valley to the Atlantic coast had moderated tonight and the weather bureau announced that it would be cooler tomorrow throughout the middle Atlantic states, with conditions unsettled and probably local showers.

Reports to the bureau said today's temperature remained above the seasonal average in practically all parts of the country. Temperatures exceeding the highest ever recorded during the month of April were reported as follows:

Richmond, Va., 96; Washington, D. C., 95; Hartford, Conn., Albany, N. Y., and New York City, 90; Wytheville, Va., 88 and Asaeville, N. C., 86. Previous high records for April were equally at Philadelphia with 92 degrees and at Atlantic City, 84.

SPOTS ON SUN APPARENTLY AFFECT WIRELESS STATIONS

ST. LOUIS, April 27.—Wireless stations in St. Louis, except the most powerful, were affected today apparently by spots on the sun.

Twenty-five spots were counted by observers at Christian Brothers college today. They estimated that the largest spot visible was 20,000 miles in diameter.

The spots were in three groups. One group was 25 degrees north of the solar equator, another group was 25 degrees south of the equator and the third was disappearing over the rim of the sun north of the equator.

The greatest width of the spotted area was estimated at 300,000 miles.

STATEMENT SHOWS IMPROVEMENT IN STEEL AND IRON INDUSTRY

Financial Report of U. S. Steel Corporation Shows Substantial Increase in Earnings.

New York, April 27.—Decided improvement in the steel and iron industry is seen in the financial statement of the United States steel corporation for the first quarter of the calendar year issued today. Taking the report by months it shows that March earnings were $8,904,136, as against $4,511,058 in February and $2,567,176 in January.

Total earnings were $12,457,809

a gain of $1,524,639 over the preceding quarter, the net income showing an increase of $329,315.

058 applicable to payment of the preferred dividend, which required an outlay of $6,304,919. To meet this deficit it was necessary to draw on last December's undivided surplus to the extent of $5,389,861.

Contrary to his usual custom, Chairman Gary refrained from any public discussion of trade conditions but it was said that the mills of the company are operating 65 to 75 per cent of capacity. The corporation's foreign business is said to show a marked gain over the last quarter of last year.

Members of the incoming city council have a great big task confronting them—meeting the expectations of the people.

A New York physician has had the temerity to say that there is nothing to the time honored remedy of sulphur and molasses for spring fever and bad colds. In fact the doctor has said that a dill pickle is just as much of a remedy. Sulphur and molasses was household remedy when germs, microbes and temperatures were not familiar words and whether or not it had any great virtue it was credited with many a cure. Less meat, more fruit, plenty of water and exercise are today recognized as important in the spring health program.

Eskimos After Beef Business.

Under the wing of the Department of the Interior, the Alaskan Eskimos are becoming serious contenders for the meat business of the United States. Reindeer, which are thriving with less care than cattle in Alaska, are being put against the steer by the natives of the far north. The government is aiding in the education of the Alaskans in the raising of reindeer, and the herd has increased rapidly in the past two years. There are now 65 known herds, totalling nearly 60,000 reindeer, an increase of 22 percent in one year.

Tuesday there was very little gossip stirring with reference to city politics or appointments. Mayor Davis was out of the city for the day and Mayor-elect Rodgers has gone west to be absent until Thursday. None of the commissioners-elect were in a talkative mood, but it is understood that they will have a conference today when it is likely that there will be a final agreement as to the assignment to departments. Further than this it is understood that there will be no action, and that the consideration of applicants for positions will not be taken up until the coming week. The plan is still to assume office on Saturday, May 1st, and to hold the first regular meeting on Monday, May 2d.

Carter Harrison, late mayor of Chicago, seems to have determined that the recent defeat administered to him is an omen that his time in politics is over. When asked about the possibilities of his being a Democratic aspirant for the governorship in 1916 Mr. Harrison said: "I can say most positively and sincerely that my days as a candidate for public office are at an end." Every man who stays long in political life must soon or later give way for a successor. With some of them more than one defeat is necessary to teach the lesson that "every politician has his day" but Mr. Harrison seems to be satisfied.

Mayor Thompson put in his first day as mayor along with other prominent Chicagoans appearing before a legislative committee to argue in favor of home rule utility commission for Chicago. The people up in the big city seem to have an idea they should always be separate from the rest of the state when any influence from the other 101 counties of Illinois affects them, yet always are willing to assume control of as many state offices as possible and to direct so far as possible affairs down state. Notwithstanding these facts it is undeniable that the Utility commission as now organized would have a sufficient task in caring for the vast railroad, street railway, telephone, telegraph, gas, and electric interests of the state outside Chicago.

In Springfield the plan major and commissioners have adopted with reference to appointments is for each commissioner to select the head of his own department, the others agreeing to support such nominee for confirmation. The understanding is, too, that the heads of departments thus appointed will be consulted with reference to other appointments in connection with their departments. In Springfield a good many positions are under civil service. Commissioner Hamilton, who ran as an independent in the campaign—that is, without taking any position on the consolidation of the water and light plants which seemed to form the principal issue—has named Jesse K. Payton for supervisor of assessments. Mr. Payton, who served as a member of the commission by appointment during part of the last administration, was also an independent candidate for election.

New York—The two week campaign which ends tonight is expected to raise $1,000,000 for the combined benefit of unemployed in New York, destitute Belgians and non-combatants in the war. A thousand society women have been working to raise the fund, under the leadership of Mrs. John Jacob Astor, Mrs. Alfred
G. Vanderbilt, Mrs. John R. Drexel,
Mrs. Douglas Robinson, Cardinal
Farley and Mortimer Schiff, who will act as patrons of the fund.

rules for self preservation have been forgotten as the men have cast themselves into the great conflict.

"All the rules have gone smash in the war. There's an old one in the British army that you ought to begin to look to retreat when 10 per cent of the men are down. In ours it is 15. In all armies it is either 10 or 15. British regiments have stuck when 60 per cent were out. German and French regiments have continued charging when only a handful were still alive or uninjured. Men have never fought so bravely as in this war. The idea that humanity was getting soft was the most ridiculous piffle that ever emanated from a "knocker" of the good old human race."

"In the old times you fought for a few hours and the battle was over. If you were uncertain of your courage you took a drink before you charged. Now you fight day after day; you face the enemy in apprehension that any moment a shell may bury you alive or eviscerate you. Hand grenades are tossed back and forth like bouquets. It's a war of nerves, and in this age of nerves the highly civilized and organized man is standing what would utterly demoralize a savage."

Life's Advice to the Jitney.

Life:—"Hello! Life! This is the Jitney Bus speaking."

"Hello, Jitney! Mighty glad you called up. Anything new?"

"Nothing special. Have you noticed how fast I have been spreading from city to city?"

"Yes, indeed. You are one of the liveliest and most promising young stars that the stork of social evolution has brought us for a long time."

"I am delighted to hear that you are not antagonistic, Life. You know, I am likely to interfere with a great many easy dividends before I'm through."

"Never mind about that, Jitney. Just think how long those dividends have been interfering with the comfort of the public!"

"You ok, then, there is a real reason for me at this time, do you, Life?"

"There certainly is. You can relieve us, not only from the well known abuses of the traction companies, but also from the thieving arrogance of the taxicab companies. But you must look out for the pitfalls."

"Pitfalls, Life? What do you mean?"

"Keep yourself free and untrammeled as at present, Jitney. You have not been fiscalized and capitalised. You have no bonds to sell and no preferred stocks. And you have no expensive underwriters and fiscal agents to support. You have no loaning directors to direct everything into their own pockets. In short, you have no connection with Wall street. Stay that way."

"That sounds like very good advice, Life, and I'll do my best to follow it."

"Let yourself not be monopolized, Jitney. And do not take to dealing in franchises. And keep away from city councils. They will corrupt you even as you try to corrupt them. And do not—but that is enough advice for one session."

"Thank you so much, Life. What you have said will be a wonderful inspiration to me. Good-by."

"Good-by, Jitney, and may prosperity bless you!"

Democratic Policy Responsible for Spread of Foot and Mouth Disease

The Breeders Gazette prints the following very strong editorial pointing out that present democratic policies are responsible for the introduction of the foot and mouth disease into the U. S. in 1914. The spread of the disease cost millions of dollars in expenditure besides immense losses through the paralyzing blow delivered to the cattle industry. The Gazette quotes Mr. Sulzberger, who recently returned from a year spent in Argentina and who testifies to the hold that the disease has on cattle in that country. The farmers and cattle raisers of this country who understand the situation are making a loud and earnest demand that something be done by the Democratic leaders in Washington for their relief.

Asleep at the Switch?

Locking the stable door when the horse is stolen does not restore the animal to the stall, neither does crying over spilled milk refill the pitcher. But post mortems are necessary and very valuable. Stockmen are entitled to know how Michigan came to be the eve of the winds that released the tempest of foot-and-mouth destruction on our live stock industry.

No one knows how the infection was carried to Niles, Mich. A bott factory is in operation there, which uses few imported hides. It is possible that infection was introduced in the hides. No one can say. If so, it is a reflection on the administrative machinery adopted to guard by disinfection against such possibilities.

Two local veterinarians in Berrien county, Mich., began treating cattle for a mysterious disease in August last. They called on the state veterinarian, Dr. Dunphy, who responded about ten days later. On Sept. 2 he took with him for a second visit Dr. Fess, an assistant inspector of the Bureau of Animal Industry, located at Detroit. On the next day Dr. Fess wired Washington that there were no indications of foot-and-mouth disease, but instead characteristic lesions of mycotic stomatitis. The bureau accepted that diagnosis and heard nothing further from the trouble until Oct. 10, when Dr. Dunphy took with him to Niles Dr. Schaffter, the inspector in charge of the bureau's office in Detroit. Under date of Oct. 7th Dr. Schaffter sent a long letter to the bureau describing—according to Dr. Mohler, assistant chief of the bureau—"certain reasons why this disease could be foot-and-mouth and also describing certain reasons why it could not be foot-and-mouth."

That Argentina is full of foot-and-mouth is well known. That the authorities are unable to cope with it is also a matter of common knowledge. The yards and cars and abattoirs through which the so-called recovered and the exposed cases pass on their way from or through infected areas to their destiny, in all human probability hide the dreaded virus of this most insidious of all animal infections. Sheep are subject to it. Their wool is coming in duty-free. Boat-loads of beef and mutton have been landed upon our coasts. What about the wrappings, and what about the meat that has been handled through packing houses and refrigerators located and doing business in an admittedly infected country?

What is the use of a fire-and-sword policy here at home if the output of infected regions abroad is to be given unrestricted entry? The clean-up has cost us millions. The market losses roll up other millions. When Argentina cleans house itself it should be time to open our doors to her again. This is not a hostile attitude towards our sister republic. It is simply a problem to be faced and solved in the light of bitter experience. What about it, Mr. Wilson and Mr. Houston, Mr. Champ Clark and Mr. Underwood? "You all" are in the saddle. We have been hard hit. Are we to invite continuous performance. A few more such winters as that just past and beef steers in America will be scarce as dodos.

"We did not have the slightest idea of foot-and-mouth disease be-

PASSAVANT HOSPITAL NOTES.

A valuable addition to the equipment of the hospital is an improved X-ray machine which is being installed and demonstrated by an expert, John McIntosh of Chicago. Mr. McIntosh will be here several days and fully explain the working of the new machine which will prove very valuable in the work of the institution.

Dr. Bringle of Winchester made a professional visit to the hospital Monday.

Dr. and Mrs. Swope of Arenzville were at the hospital Monday on professional business.

Drs. Chapin and Fresch were up from Whitehall yesterday, bringing with them a patient, Mr. Ruble, for an operation.

A new equipment is added to the kitchen which it is expected will be a saving of work and add to the comfort of the place.

John Carter of Hillview is a patient at the hospital.

George Chasser has returned to his home near Cannerville after a sojourn of several months at the institution.

He had a peculiar and readable accident, both thighs being broken by the falling of a tree. He was in a fearful condition when brought to the hospital and only the best of skill and nursing brought him around. The officials give him also an excellent name for patience and ocility as a patient. He is able to get about slowly and hopes in due time to be restored to a fairly good if not complete physical condition.

KNOOKING BOOZE

"I'll gladly hit the water cooler," says George, Great Britain's wacky ruler, "and cut the bugjuice out, as an example to the laddies who blow the shillings of their daddies for porter, beer and stout. By foreign fee we are endangered, and Booze, like some fierce dog emmangled, is raising hob at home; it tolls not, and keeps men from toiling, and keeps them hot with useless brawling, as they blow off the foam. We're running short of ammunition because our workingmen's condition recalls the old D. T.; the provocation now seems ample, and so I'll set a good example—no long cold drinks for me!" 'Tis thus with all the warring nations; they're finding out that liquid rations are fruitful of despair, far more than all the swords that slaughter, the submarines down under water, the airships in the air. In Russia now no vodka's flowing; we see the thirsty mouskis going to tap the helpful well; and in France, the volatile and merry, prohibited the old "green fairy" that sent her sons to hell. The German soldiers heard the Kaiser informing them it would be wiser, if give the pump a show; thus all the rulers are deciding that Barleycorn, the long abiding, means trouble and woe.

Just put a few drops of Sloan's on the painful spot and the pain stops. It is really wonderful how quickly Sloan's acts. No need to rub it in—laid on lightly it penetrates to the bone and brings relief at once. Kills rheumatic pain instantly.

Mr. James E. Alexander, of North Harpswell, Me., writes: "Many strains in my back and hips brought on rheumatism in which I lay for weeks. And it so bad one night when sitting in my bed that I had to jump on my feet to get relief. I at once applied your Liniment to the affected part and in less than ten minutes it was perfectly easy. I think it is the best of all liniments I have ever used."

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced By Perfect Physical Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfit for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

To "Have Time" You Must "Save Time"

Economy is talked, taught and practiced in almost every line of work but house work. There, where most essential, it is neglected.

This Is National Gas Range and Domestic Science Week

The primary object of this exhibition and demonstration is to teach economy of time—how to make the necessary housework so much easier and pleasanter; how actually to "save time" so that you will "have time" when something presents itself to which you really wish to devote some attention. There are many little, simple ways of economizing on time—so simple as readily to be overlooked, yet so important. Come often and learn how always to "have time."

At 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. daily will be the most interesting hours, but we will welcome you at any hour you find convenient

Our interesting Domestic Science Demonstrations will be in charge of Miss Emma Vassar, a graduate of that department of Chicago University. These demonstrations will begin each day during the coming week at 10 A. M. and 2 P. M., and the ladies of Jacksonville and vicinity are urged to so plan their work that they will miss few, if any, of these splendid sessions. Come, learn how always to "have time."

New Gas Ranges and Heaters

We shall make an extra effort this week to thoroughly explain and demonstrate the economy and satisfaction to be obtained by the use of gas. Hot water at a moment's notice, quick meals, with everything about the house so cool, clean and delightful. Mark your engagement book so as to allow you several visits this week to our demonstrations.

Men Pay Homage to Mother's Friend

"I am not surprised to observe the number of men who come into the store to purchase 'Mother's Friend,'" remarked a leading druggist.

The expectant mother if she has heard of this splendid emollient probably not reading the papers to much extent. And if she does it is a happy thought to send hubby to the drug store. "Mother's Friend" is applied externally over the abdominal muscles.

It is a gentle, soothing lubricant, penetrates to the fine network of nerves beneath the skin and has a marked tendency to relieve the muscular strain to which the head, neck, shoulders and muscles are subjected. The cords, tendons and ligaments are thus permitted to stretch without the corresponding surface strain so often involved during the period of expectation. This in part accounts for the entire absence, in many cases reported, of nausea, morning sickness and other distresses. And particularly to young mothers in the final months of pregnancy, its value since in thus keeping the muscles firm but pliant it enables them to go through the ordeal without laceration of the epidermis so often the case when this gentle form of lubrication is neglected.

"Mother's Friend" is highly recommended by a host of women. Write Bradford Regulator Clock Co., Lamar, Mo. After a G. A. will send you a valuable little book to expectant mothers.

The effect of this splendid external application is an expression of the thousands of women who have successfully used it and recommended it through two generations.

JOHN C. ANDRAS STILL VIGOROUS ALTHOUGH EIGHTY-THREE YEARS OLD

Jacksonville Men Found Him at Work in His Garden—Still Active in Management of More Than 3,000 Acres—Holds Wheat for $2 Price—Some Prize Alfalfa.

There are some notable exceptions to the old rule of the average span of man's life being three score years and ten. Some Jacksonville men on the way home from White Hall Monday passed some property belonging to John C. Andras, and they saw Mr. Andras, aged eighty-three, busily at work in his garden. He had a large butcher knife and had just finished planting some cabbages, and the looks of that whole garden indicated that Mr. Andras, who in large measure looks after the management of his great farm of more than three thousand acres, still finds time and has the strength to do the physical labor in connection with the family garden plot.

The garden in which Mr. Andras was at work adjoins what is said to be the finest field of alfalfa in Morgan or Scott counties. Last year this field was cut four times and produced an average of more than six tons to the acre. It is a perfect stand, and the plants are strong and vigorous. Such growth has already been made this season that Mr. Andras plans for the first cutting in about two weeks. In telling about how he handled this field, he described something of the special care which was used in the preparation of the soil, and then told about the application of limestone, phosphate and bone meal.

The land has been in cultivation a great many years and some of Mr. Andras' neighbors thought that he was wasting his time in trying to raise alfalfa there. He admitted that this fact had something to do with the particular care that he used in his efforts to grow alfalfa there. He wanted to demonstrate that even with soil conditions not counted as satisfactory that by the application of the proper methods alfalfa can be grown. It was something of this same spirit, no doubt, that actuated Mr. Andras in connection with a field of wheat where last year the average yield was more than fifty-one bushels to the acre.

The soil in this field is not very strong, and yet by handling it in a scientific way Mr. Andras was able to produce these results. He said, "I can take any land around in this locality, I don't care how it may have been abused, and within a few years' time, by rotation of crops and by the application of limestone and fertilizers, can make it produce fifty bushels of wheat to the acre, or some other crop in an equally large way."

And talking about wheat Mr. Andras said, "I have just had a telephone message from the elevator offering me $1.58 a bushel for the wheat I have on hand, but I didn't accept it. I am in no hurry about selling the wheat I have on hand for I believe the price will be better yet. It will be some months before the new crop is available; there are lots of people in Europe, they will want our wheat and they have the money to pay for it when the necessary time arrives." From another source it was learned that Mr. Andras has on hand between four and five thousand bushels of this grain, and that he has prophesied that the $2 mark will be reached before the new crop is harvested.

On his large estate Mr. Andras has adequate facilities for the storage of corn, hay, wheat and all the other grains that he raises, and he is thus equipped to hold the product of his farm until whatever time he thinks is the most advisable for making a sale. Although eighty-three years of age and not so strong as he was physically a few years ago, he is able to do more work than many men are half his age, and his strong mind shows no weakening. Though he has been so active in the actual work of his farms during many years, he is nevertheless a great student and it is his knowledge of scientific principles that has had much to do with the large success that has attended his agricultural work. He is a great reader, too, keeps thoroughly posted in all the advances made in agricultural methods, and it is his custom of long standing at brief intervals to take trips through parts of Illinois, Missouri and other nearby states in order to keep thoroughly in touch with crop conditions. From this fact his opinion is often sought by grain men in Chicago, as he knows from actual observation about what the crop conditions are through a very large area. He knows, too, a great deal about the acreage planted to the various grains, and this in connection with his knowledge of exact conditions, makes his crop estimates of special value. Altogether Mr. Andras, with his activity, his knowledge, his achievements, can be put down as a wonderful old man, and he has undoubtedly arrived at that time of life when he will take no exception to the adjective "old," being used in connection with his name.

"Simultaneously a fleet approached the Dardanelles in order to force the straits from the sea, but it was obliged to retreat before our fire."

DISCUSSES TREATMENT OF BRITISH PRISONERS BY GERMANY

Gratitude for Efforts of United States is Expressed in Both Houses of British Parliament.

London, April 27.—(9 p. m.)

The British Parliament occupied itself solely today with discussions of the treatment of British prisoners of war by Germany. In both the house of lords and the house of commons gratitude was expressed for the efforts that have been made by the United States to ameliorate the conditions of the prisoners. Lord Kitchener's speech in the house of lords, in which, as a soldier, he said he lamented what he was convinced was German inhumanity toward British soldiers, was the most notable expression of the day.

There were however, equally striking notes in both houses, notably by Lord Lansdowne, leader of the opposition, and Lord Cromer, who expressed regret in the house of lords that the British admiralty had seen fit to segregate captured German submarine crews and by Premier Asquith in the house of commons who declared that at the end of the war the British people would exact reparation. No definite course of action concerning treatment of prisoners was agreed on by either house.

In the house of commons Neil Primrose said that American officials already had visited sixteen prisons on camps in Germany and that the reports thus far received had shown improvement in the treatment of the prisoners held in them.

Pauline Welch Ate Tablets Prescribed for Her Mother—Medicine Had Blown from Shelf to Floor.

Pauline, the 2 year old little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Welch died at 12:20 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the family residence, 435 Hooker street. Her death was caused from the effects of strychnine tablets which had been prescribed for the child's mother, and which were blown by the wind from a shelf onto the floor where they were found by the child and eaten. It was noticed at about 9 o'clock the child was apparently sick and she was taken by her father to the office of Dr. J. M. Wolfe, where an emetic was given, and it had the desired effect. The doctor gave it as his opinion that the death was due to the eating by the child of some Hinkley tablets containing 1-60 of a grain each of strychnine.

Held Inquest.

Coroner G. W. Wright was notified and he empaneled a jury of inquest consisting of the following: Mathew L. Hildreth, foreman; J. M. Wolfe, John Brown, L. W. Reynolds, George Nunes and W. A. Fay clerk. The testimony was taken of C. W. Gilpin, grandfather of the child, who resides with the family, of his daughter, and who first noticed that the child was sick, the testimony of Dr. J. M. Wolfe, the attending physician and of Harry Welch, father of the child were taken, and the jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts narrated above.

Mr. Welch is in the employ of the Jacksonville Transfer Co., and the family will have the sympathy of their many friends in their bereavement. The little girl is survived by her parents and her brother, Nolan, a lad of six years. Brief services will be held at the family residence, 435 Hooker street at 8:30 o'clock Thursday morning, and the remains will be taken to Naples for more extended services, and for burial in the family lot in the cemetery north of the town.

WHY HAIR FALLS OUT.

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub well into the scalp. After a few applications all dandruff disappears and the hair stops coming out.—Ad.

POLES HAVE ARRIVED FOR NEW CITY LIGHTING SYSTEM

Workmen Will Begin Installation at Once—Globes Are of a Splendid Kind.

The new poles for the lights about the city square and business district have been received and workmen will begin putting them in place today. They are solid cast iron poles and very substantial.

The Safety Steel Taper Cables which is being laid has nine coverings, first rubber insulation, rubber tape, jute, rubber tape lead sheath, jute, steel tape double and woven jute. 6230 feet of this cable will be used and 3800 feet of the smaller cable for connections. This is the cable that carries its own conduit, thereby affording all the advantages of a duct or conduit system at a fraction of the cost. It carries within itself complete immunity against all deteriorating and disturbing influences.

The famous "Alba Globes" will be used. They are manufactured for a special patented wick, diffusing glass of very low light-absorption and spread the light over a wide area. An Alba globe is evenly illuminated over its entire surface and does not present any "bright spots" in the immediate region the lamp it envelopes. They are not frosted or sand blasted but are entirely smooth both inside and out and designed to resist the collection of dust and dirt. Since placing the order Secretary Weber has been informed that glassware has advanced nearly twenty-five percent.

A driving rain at St. Joseph at the time the posts were shipped out, hindered the advertising plan by which the King Foundry Co., were to cover the car skies with signs publishing the contents and the destination as Jacksonville.

REV. H. E. BUTLER HAS ANSWERED
THE FINAL SUMMONS

Former Pastor of Congregational Church Dies at Home in Chicago
—Deceased Was Eighty Years Old.

W. A. Jenkinson received a dispatch stating that Rev. H. E. Butler, formerly a Jacksonville minister, died at the family residence, 656 West 67th street, Chicago, Monday afternoon. Mr. Butler was born in New England eighty years ago and received a liberal education and in early life devoted himself to the ministry. His first charge was Keysville, N. Y., where he served seventeen years till 1881 when he became pastor of the Congregational church of this city. He was introduced to the people of the church in Jacksonville by Prof. E. F. Bullard, then principal of the Jacksonville Female Academy. He served the church six years and then accepted a call to a professorship in a college at Alma, Michigan. He remained at work in college and church as long as health and strength would permit and then retired to enjoy the retrospect of a well spent life.

His work in this city was peculiarly successful and he left to accept what seemed a larger field of work. He was truly a pastor and shepherd of the flock and was especially gifted in winning the young people and children of the congregation and all loved him. When Father Clark first organized his young people Mr. Butler saw the account of it and at once went to work and organized what was probably the second oldest informal young people's society of Christian endeavor in the country and when the enterprise was formally launched the Congregational church in this place soon fell into line with a thriving branch and it continued to flourish as long as its founder remained in the city.

Mr. Butler was beloved by old and young; he was faithful to all his pastoral duties and a welcome and frequent visitor in the homes of his flock. He was particularly fortunate in his wife and daughters, especially the older daughters, who were very capable always in all departments of the work and untiring in their efforts for the welfare of the society.

His wife, who died some years since, was a sister of the celebrated Isaac Ogden Rankin and a lady of rare sweetness of character and fine executive ability. She was truly a helpmeet in all her husband did. Seldom if ever did a man leave a church more beloved and regretted and those who knew him have always heard from him with pleasure.

While in this city he lost his second daughter, Agnes, a lovely girl of perhaps fourteen years and it was a crushing blow to one of such a tender nature. His other two daughters married very happily. The older one, Sadie, is Mrs. Northrup, and the younger, Carrie, is Mrs. Fairman. There is one grandchild, the son of Carrie, and both with their husbands live in the one home where the father died.

During his declining years Mr. Butler has enjoyed the faithful and devoted care of his dutiful daughters and their husbands. Everything they could do for him was done and the home life of the place was beautiful.

Last winter he suffered an attack of pneumonia and was very much prostrated but finally recovered though for a good many years he has not been at all strong or rugged.

He took some cold and again was laid up but less than a week ago he seemed not to be very ill and spoke with a strong voice but a sudden turn for the worse developed and the end quickly followed.

To the memory of this man the writer would pay a loving tribute.

During two especially sad events the good pastor was a comfort and a solace, first at the death of a cherished little one and later during the long illness and death of a loved wife. All that loving sympathy and kindness could suggest was done and the memory of those days will never be effaced.

The remains will be taken to Keysville, New York, today for funeral and interment.
